Information concerning the presentation of an energy performance certificate and energy figures quoted in ads

The Act on the Presentation of the Energy Performance Certificate (EAVG) provides that in the event a building or an object of usage is sold/rented, the seller/landlord has to present to the buyer/tenant an Energy Performance Certificate in due time before the contractual declaration and hand it to the buyer/tenant no later than 14 days after the signing of the agreement. At the time of presentation, the Energy Performance Certificate may not be older than 10 years.

As of December 1, 2012 (when the Act on the Presentation of the Energy Performance Certificate will enter into force) advertisements in print and electronic media must specify the thermal heat requirements (Heizwärmebedarf or HWB) and the overall energy efficiency factor (Gesamtenergieeffizienzfaktor or fGEE). Both, seller/landlord and broker who fail to state the HWB and fGEE values in an advertisement are subject to a fine of up to EUR 1,450. Moreover, the seller/landlord faces an administrative penalty of up to EUR 1,450 if he/she fails to present and / or hand-over the Energy Performance Certificate.

Already existent Energy Performance Certificates (only including HWB) are valid 10 years as of date of issue.

In the event the seller/landlord fails to provide an Energy Performance Certificate, the buyer/tenant is entitled to procure an Energy Performance Certificate and claim reasonable expenses for the certificate at court within 3 years.

The client has been informed of the obligation to disclose the energy performance data in advertisements and to present and hand-over the Energy Performance Certificate, as well as of the pertinent administrative penalty provisions.

The client has provided an Energy Performance Certificate to the broker/ The client shall make available the Energy Performance Certificate by / In spite of having been informed of the obligation to present an Energy Performance Certificate, the client will not make available such certificate.

Mutual obligation for support and information

The client shall assist the broker in carrying out his broker activity in good faith and shall refrain from passing on any information on business opportunities. Broker and client are obliged to provide each other with the necessary information. In particular, the client shall immediately inform the broker about any change of his intention to sell/rent the property.

ÖVI form no. 10/6/2016

General terms and conditions pursuant to Section 10 IMVO [Real Estate Broker Regulation] 1996 BGBl. [Federal Law Gazette] No. 297/1996 recommended by the Federal Chamber of Commerce Austria, Section of real estate experts and escrow agents. GZ 2016/06/15 FVO Ed/Pe Form 10 ÖVI

Commission agreements

The client undertakes to pay the commission specified hereunder in case he enters into the transaction mentioned above with the party identified by the broker. The broker commission shall also be due in case the broker has become active for the client in any other way. The payment is due when the brokered transaction goes into effect.

Commission amount:

% of the purchase price incl. debts and other liabilities (as agreed in the contract) plus % VAT

% monthly gross rents (total rent excluding VAT) plus % VAT

% of special considerations (for investments, furniture, granting of rights plus % VAT

In the event that the prospective client enters into a legal transaction of equivalent purpose (e.g. purchase instead of rent) s/he undertakes to pay to the real estate broker a commission which shall be calculated pursuant to the respective maximum amounts for commissions as laid down in the Immobilienmaklerverordnung [Real Estate Broker Regulation] 1996. A supplementary commission in accordance with the respective maximum commission fees defined in the Real Estate Brokers Act (IMV) 1996 is agreed upon in the event that once a legal transaction has been concluded (e.g. initial lease) an additional transaction is agreed with regard to the same property (e.g. purchase following the lease).

Special commission agreements

Payment of the commission agreed upon above (or a commission in the amount of EURO plus 20% VAT) is also agreed upon if

- the transaction described in the broker agreement is not entered into contrary to good faith (because the client – contrary to the course of the negotiations up to that point - fails to take any action that would be required for the conclusion of the deal without notable reason),
- a different transaction is entered into the purpose of which is not equivalent to the original transaction,
- either the client or the third party identified by the broker passes on the business opportunity proposed by the real estate broker to a different person with whom the transaction is then entered into
- or that any statutory or contractual right of first refusal, repurchase or right to succeed has been exercised (section 15 para 1 Maklergesetz (Austrian Broker Statute))

In these cases the commission is calculated pursuant to the purchase price/monthly gross rent given in the broker agreement.

Right of withdrawal and consumer information

The client is informed that - in the event a sole agency agreement is concluded - it has the right to withdraw from the agreement within 14 days, if such agreement has been concluded outside the real estate agent's premises (off-premises) or by distant sale pursuant to Section 11 FAGG (Distant & Off-Premises Sales Act).

The 14-day withdrawal period commences on the day the agreement is concluded. While the withdrawal does not require any specific format, it may be made by means of the model form provided. If the client wants the agent to take action before the 14-day notice period has expired, the client must explicitly instruct the agent. In such case the client loses its right of withdrawal, provided the contract has been completely executed within that period.

The client wants the agent to take early action (within the withdrawal period) and acknowledges that it will consequently lose the right to withdraw from the agency agreement pursuant to Section 1 FAGG, once the agent fully executes the agreement (i.e., identifies a contracting party). However, the obligation to pay the commission will only arise upon the actual conclusion of the transaction (purchase or lease agreement), if based on the agent's activities.

The client does not want the agent to take early action.

In the event of withdrawal pursuant to Section 11 FAGG, the client undertakes to refrain from using the information received.

The client acknowledges receipt of a copy of this broker agreement and an outline of ancillary expenses (ÖVI form 13 K or M, information on withdrawal rights right including withdrawal form).
